Docs space: full page names in the tree

Before: the tree is 248px wide, the hidden “+ / ⋯” buttons keep 44px even when not shown, and a cut-off title has no tooltip.

Before: default

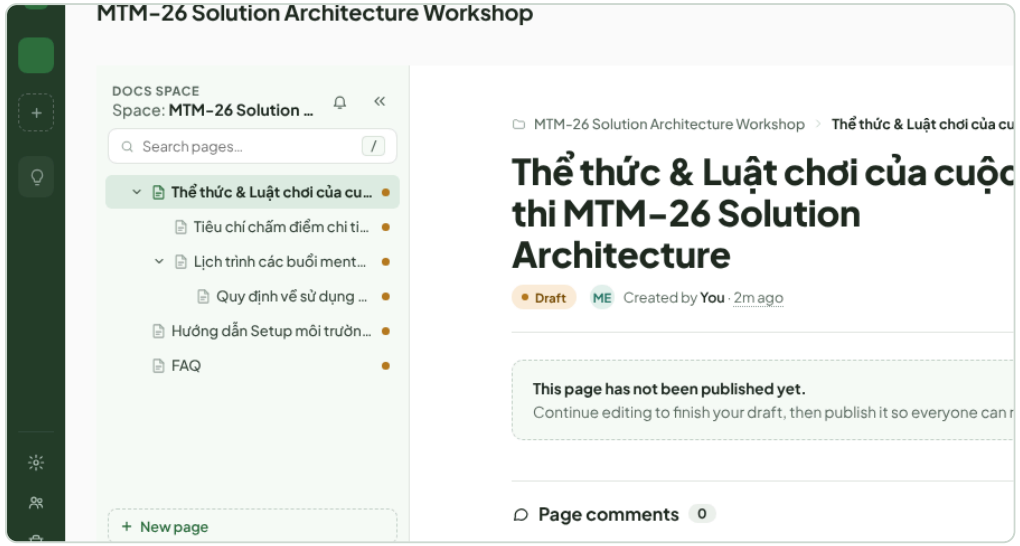

Before: hover (no full name)

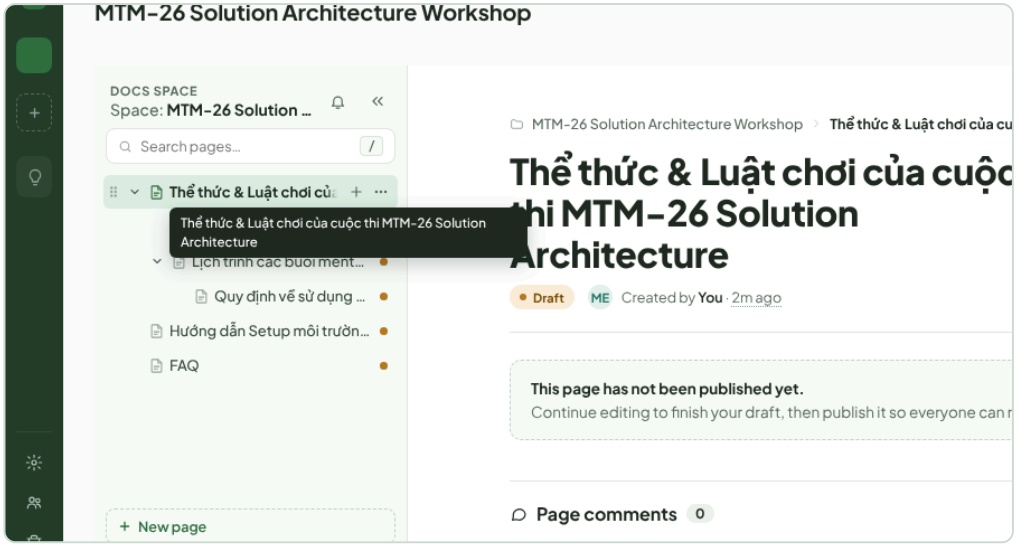

After: wider by default, actions overlay the row

Default width is 280px. The “+ / ⋯” buttons now float over the end of the row only on hover or focus, so they no longer take space from the title.

After: default

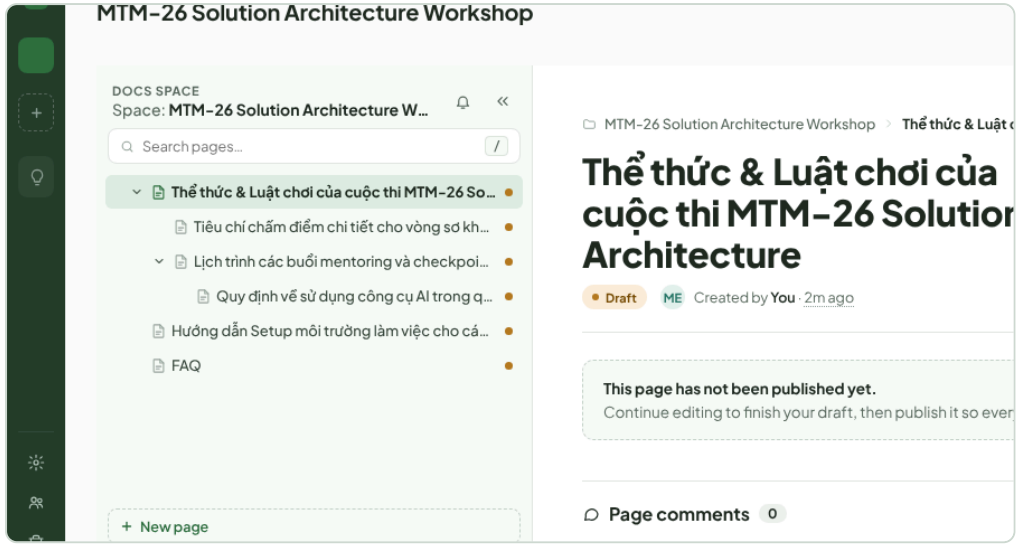

After: hover shows the full title at once

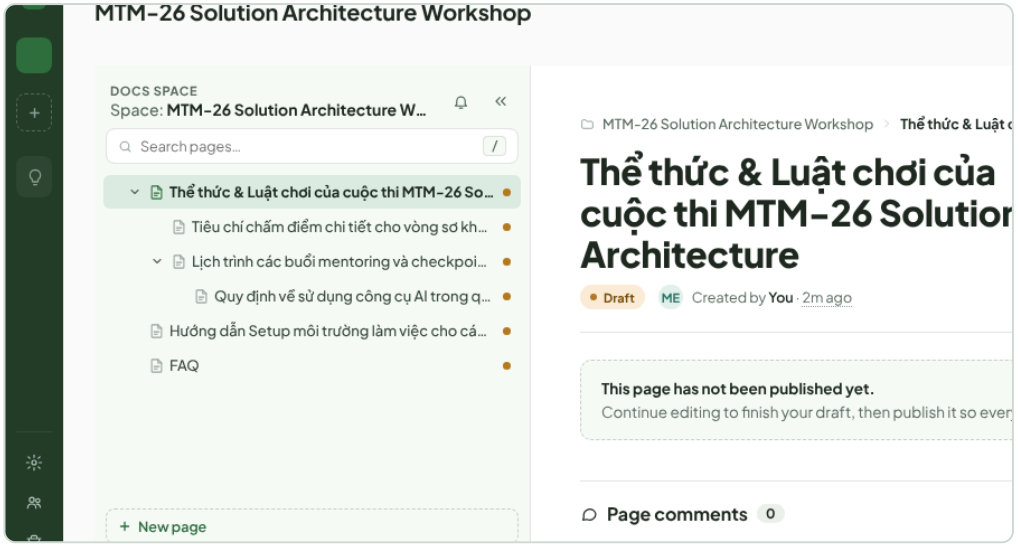

After: resizable, and the width is remembered

Drag the tree's right edge (arrow keys work too; double-click resets to 280px; range 220–520px). The width is kept in `localStorage` (`docsTreeWidth`).

Dragged +110px

The tooltip only appears when the title is actually cut off. It is hidden while dragging a row or while the row menu is open.
